Application Questions

1. Paul gives three commands in this passage, what are they?
2. Paul draws a number of contrasts between those who walk as enemies of the cross (19) and those who walk like Paul (20). What is one way Paul describes those who are enemies of the cross? How is that contrasted with believers?
3. Why do you think some are able to stand firm and others flirt with worldly ways of living? What perspectives does Paul offer to help the believer stand firm?
4. We often talk about ourselves as being “saved,” i.e. past tense. What aspects of our salvation are still pending, according to this passage or others? Why is it important to always remember that our salvation is not fully accomplished? How might forgetting this contribute to someone not persevering in their walk with Christ?
5. In what ways have you made peace with the fact that our hope is for the coming of a Savior, and that this life is full of pain and suffering for all people, but especially Christ followers? In what ways are you still trying to live as if this life is where you need to find your happiness and fill your belly?
6. Who is an example of standing firm that you can imitate? How should you begin imitating them?
